'CSA Soldier' Visits Park

The white painted fence close to the McLean House provides a resting place for David Jurgella, authentically garbed as a member of the 2nd N.C. State Troops, Confederate Army, who stopped at the National Park Friday with Gary Carpenter, a Cornell University graduate student. Jurgella is a graduate of Wisconsin State at Stevens Point. He and Carpenter are visiting Civil War battlefields and other historic points of interest. They were part of an ABC-TV special "Road to Gettysburg", a B.F. Goodrich production. Jurgella's outfit is made from homespun Amish wool with a blanket of homespun, too. His jacket is buttoned with rare CSA Rifleman buttons, with a Union haversack and canteen.

"The Confederates often used Yankee accouterments," he explained as a case of necessity rather than choice and found, usually on the battlefield. Both men said their purpose is to "give people a living example of the fighting soldier." George Gorman is founder of the re-enactment group, 2nd N.C. State Troops. Next project—both Carpenter and Jurgella plan to be a part of the 5th Penna. Light Infantry for the 1976 Bi-centennial of the Revolutionary War.
